

OUR DEAD PRESIDENT THE FUNERAL PROGRESS IN INDIANA. ARRIVAL AT CHICAGO. AN ADDRESS BY SCHUYLER COLFAX.

The Procession and Other Ceremonies.

From Indianapolis Northward.
MICHAEL J. COLEMAN, M. D., has been appointed to the position of medical officer of the army for the purpose of attending to the funeral of the late President Lincoln. The funeral party will leave for Chicago on Monday morning, May 1st, at 10 o'clock. The funeral party will leave for Chicago on Monday morning, May 1st, at 10 o'clock. The funeral party will leave for Chicago on Monday morning, May 1st, at 10 o'clock.

CHICAGO, Monday, May 1.—12 m. The funeral cortege arrived here at noon today. All along the road from Indianapolis to here there were demonstrations of mourning, and especially was this the case at Michigan City, where the party were joined by Speaker Colfax, Senator Tamm, Judge Davis of the United States Supreme Court, and a Committee of 100 citizens of Chicago.

Thousands of thousands of persons assembled at the depot here to receive the remains of the lamented chief.

DECEASED. The funeral of the late President Lincoln has been celebrated under which the remains and the funeral party passed.

THE PROCESSION. The procession of military and civilians is very large. Chicago is evidently determined to make the occasion one worthy of the respect due to the honored dead.

THE DAY. This day is calm and sunny.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT. A MAN ABOARD A RAILROAD TRAIN. The remains have been placed on the train, and we resume our journey to Chicago. On the way we pass in succession Aurora and Evanston. These are small places, but it seems the inhabitants are on the roadside. Some of them have been killed up. Men stand with uncovered heads as the train hurries on its way.

RAILROAD ARRANGEMENTS. The usual precautions have been taken to secure the comfort of the passengers and the safety of the train. Mr. R. R. Rice, the Superintendent of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, has furnished four elegant sleeping cars, one directors' car, two regular day cars, and a baggage car, with the engines and the train, all equipped with the latest improvements. He personally superintends the movement.

WHITESTOWN. Monday, May 1.—11 a. m.—We are now slowly passing the village of Whitestown. At least the name of the place, according to a number of young ladies, are drawn up in line, the latter are dressed in white, with black accents. Large bouquets are borne in the driving car. This place is twenty-one miles from Indianapolis, and is the residence principally of farmers and drovers.

LEBANON. 1:10 a. m.—The people here have come out to greet the train. GEN. BUTLER AT THE UNION LEAGUE CLUB.

His Address.

Major-Gen. BUTLER delivered an address last evening, under the auspices of this Club, at their rooms, Union-square.

JOHN JAY, esq., was nominated Chairman, who spoke as follows: We have the honor to meet here to-night, gentlemen, a distinguished officer of the United States Army—the first to point out at the opening of the war, how the negro should be treated. He showed the country, to its immense satisfaction, how Rebels should be treated during the war, and certainly no one has a better right to express his views as to how that class of our fellow-citizens should be treated, than our host, who has been bound together by the single principle, devoted loyalty to the Government—the only grand principle that we have yet adopted. We have not yet agreed upon any general view of the policy to be pursued in dealing with the Rebels, of the great question of reconstruction, nor of any of the various questions growing out of the conclusion of the war, and perhaps we are not yet ready to adopt unanimously any policy upon these questions; but we are ready, always ready, to listen with becoming deference to the views of a gentleman so eminent and distinguished as he who is our guest to-night.

Gen. BUTLER was then introduced, and welcomed with great applause. He said:

THE ADDRESS. We may congratulate ourselves that after four years of effort, toil, expenditure of treasure and blood, we are now at the point where we can begin to see the end of the war. The war has been a long and arduous one, and we have suffered many hardships and privations. But we have been successful in our efforts to bring about the restoration of the Union, and we are now at the point where we can begin to see the end of the war.

OF GOVERNMENT, I WOULD FIRST PRESENT THE PRINCIPLES.

being determined, then the questions of men could be discussed. Upon the first proposition that I would require to be submitted to the people of each State, before it can ask to come back into the Union, there are certain conditions which must be met. The second condition is that the people of each State must be able to govern themselves. The third condition is that the people of each State must be able to govern themselves.

Business Notices. A GOLD is easily taken in this changeable climate of ours, and without care another will be contracted on top of it one cold this running into another, until the accompanying cough becomes settled, and confirmed, straining and racking the lungs, and ultimately stimulating the production of tubercles. A majority of existing cases of clearly defined Pulmonary Disease may thus be accounted for, and those who are now carelessly allowing themselves to drift through the preliminary symptoms, under the false delusion that they are troubled with nothing but a cold. How obviously, then, that a cold should be taken care of from its incipency, and no effort spared to rid the system of its effects. A curative remedy obtainable, and of established reputation, can be found in JAMES'S EXTRACTOR, and by its use all fears of dangerous results will soon be dispelled. Where the danger is so imminent, why not resort at once to the standard remedy?

Twelve Years Ago. HENRIETTA'S STOMACH BITTERS was struggling in notice against the prejudices which everything new, however excellent, is doomed to encounter.

It stands at the head of all the tonic and alterative preparations in existence. It is a remedy for all the ailments of the system, and it is a remedy for all the ailments of the system.

It is a remedy for all the ailments of the system, and it is a remedy for all the ailments of the system.

It is a remedy for all the ailments of the system, and it is a remedy for all the ailments of the system.
